Project Description:

name:online food ordering system

it's an web based application where people can order food sitting at home. they can see the food item list, select quantities and confirm the order by giving address details. also they can select payment method, give a ticket tag and edit their user details if needed.
From the admin end all the pending orders, cancelled orders, available food items will be seen. admin can update the food price as well.